The famous suit brought by James Fisk, Jr., in Brooklyn against the Union Pacific Railroad and the Credit Mobilier, and in progress of which the company's safe was burst open and its secret documents published by direction of Judge Hilton, is again occupying the attention of the New York courts. The case, after a long fight in the State courts was transferred to the Federal tribunals, and on the death of Gen. Fisk, Lucy D. Fisk, his widow, was made plaintiff in his stead. Mr. Fisk was the owner of 20,000 shares of the Union Pacific at the time when a new issue of $32,000,000 worth of stock was made to meet certain contracts made with parties connected with the Credit Mobilier, and known as the Hoxie and Oakes Amendments. Fisk subscribed for 20,000 shs of this stock, for which he never paid, as he claims some of the other subscribers ever paid. The relief claimed by Mrs. Fisk is that, as representative, through her husband, of these 20,000 shares she shall have a full participation in all the profits accruing from said issue, or else that the entire proceeds of the same shall be turned over to the treasury of the Union Pacific by the parties who she alleges have wrongfully converted the same to their own use and benefit. As the telegram has already stated the case was argued at length before Judge Blatchford on Thursday, and was finally postponed to allow counsel time for further preparation.

Recently in Africa partakes of but little of the splendor and magnificence that characterizes it in other latitudes. At the recent coronation of Benshaw Tom Porter, Esq., as ruler of Old Calibar in West Africa, the latest reckoned a marked and curious illustration.—The proceedings took place in a little mission church, in Creek town, in which were gathered all the nobs of the realm, together with a number of European traders. The scene in Creek Town was very fine, bearing tasteful native parallel the town, beating tom-toms, and swarms of naked urchins of both sexes, all crowded on the beach, rushing in and out of the water, yelling and making all sorts of grotesque grimaces. The scene in the church was very amusing. The front seats were occupied by the chiefs of villages, looking very picturesque in their gaudy loin-clothes and cotton caps. The females, clad in cotton and small loin-clothes, accompanied by three sisters of the King, pretty fair specimens of African beauty, similarly but less sparsely clothed. After the reading of a requisition to Heaven in behalf of Tom Porter, Esq., to become King Old Calibar, the Rev. Mr. Edgerly, senior missionary of the place, ordered the crown placed upon the King's head. The King, clad in frock coat, white vest, trousers and boots, then took his seat in an arm chair, over which was spread what had at once been a dressing gown, made of green damask and lined with red flannel. A libation being unheeded, the officer fired, and when the fellow was captured, it was found that the bullet had grazed his back.

A FEW WORDS TO OUR FARMERS.

From the Boston Globe.

If there is any one opinion more thoroughly grounded in the general mind than another, it is that the healthiest, the pleasantest, and the most independent life is that of the farmer, the reason being, doubtless, that it ought to be. The inference is correct enough, but when one looks the facts in the face, and calls to mind the faces and forms of the city agriculturists with whom he has come in contact during his bucolic experiences, he will be constrained to admit that those who drove fat oxen were not always fat, and that those who breathed the fresh air of heaven twelve and sometimes fourteen hours a day were not always models of health. In fact, notwithstanding the advantages of exercise, pure air and pure water, statistics go to show that the farmer has his full share of the ills and often more than those of certain other classes whose peculiar vocations have by popular consent come to be looked upon as unhealthy. And yet there is no reason why the farmer should not be in reality, in the particular instance of health all that popular imagination has supposed him to be. The average New England farmer, though knowing exactly how his cattle should be treated, the kind and quality of the food they should eat and how they should be housed and taken care of generally is either wofully ignorant of the commonest rules of health as applicable to himself or else wofully careless. Ill of what is known as the "thrifty" class, he very often rises when he should be sleeping, but with breakfast of fried pork and potatoes and hastens to the field, works without intermission until noon, then more fried pork, then another five or six hours' work with the scythe, the plough or the hoe, and after that the chores, which not unfrequently include milking from six to fifteen cows. That is frequently performed after dark in the hurried season, the farmer or workmen sitting in the cow-house at their shirt sleeves after having sweated profusely all day in the field. Hundreds of cases of consumption, rheumatism and a score of other diseases are thus induced while the general diet and the hasty manner in which food is disposed of have made the farmers of New England a race of dyspeptics. Eggs in any form are rarely seen upon the table of the family that raises them. They are sent to market. In thousands of families beefsteak is an unknown article of diet. When an ox or a cow is killed, tant pis goes to market, too. Once in a while a sheep is sacrificed to the wants of its owner, but rarely. The great staple is pork, salt, nine-tenths of the year, and fresh for a few meals at the killing season. As a rule, very little milk is consumed by the adults of a farmer's family. That goes for butter and cheese. It is a lamentable truth, but it is a truth, nevertheless, that there is no class of people in the country capable of living as well who live so poorly.

Something during the past year the Massachusetts Board of Health, wishing to obtain statistics upon the subject, addressed a large number of circulars to prominent physicians in various parts of the state. One of the questions asked was "What causes tend to injure the health of farmers and their families?" That a great many rural readers may have some idea of what professional men say in regard to the matter, beyond the individual opinion expressed in this article, we quote one or two of the answers made.

"Exposure and protracted hard work exceeding fatigue, especially in hot weather, overwork or want of recreation, lack of bathing."

"Damp, dark and badly ventilated bed-rooms, damp cellars, small bed-rooms opening from the kitchen, improper drainage."

"Monotonous hard work, insufficient variety in the kind of food, bitter cooking, little attention to the ventilation of sleeping apartments."

All the answers received by the Board are but specifications of the above. The same report shows that dyspepsia exists as a rule, in a great majority of farmers families, that of other diseases the dyspepsia is the most common, present most primary affections and consumption coming next in order. This is a sad showing, but it will doubtless have its effect. Light farmers out of every ten will insist upon finishing their days on salt pork and according to the twelve hour system because their fathers did so before them, unless they can be made to see their error. And is that at all possible? The next generation—there is no use to say next generation of agriculturists may be and very probably will be wiser—it is most sincerely trust so.

A Washington special to the Boston Advertiser states that there has been much labor performed during the past week in which Speaker Blaine has been very active, looking to a compromise of the currency bill. It is understood that a measure including the following points has been agreed upon by a majority of the most prominent leaders on each side: First, free banking on the present basis, with some of the present restrictions on the reserves removed; second, retiring 50 per cent. in greenbacks of the new banking currency issued until the greenbacks are reduced to $300,000,000, the limit at which the retirement shall begin whether at the present volume or when it has reached $400,000,000; third, redemption of greenbacks in 4½ per cent. bonds. Upon this point one extreme desires 3.65 and the other 5 per cent. Fourth, purchasing 5-20's with greenbacks obtained by process of redemption.

Another special says a motion will be made in the Senate to-day to postpone action on the President's veto of the banking bill until next week, and that it will be carried. Leading inflationists are understood to be willing to vote on the question of passing the bill over the veto without any discussion.

Although Congress has passed a bill for the relief of the sufferers by the overflow of the lower Mississippi, it has been found that no supplies can be spared from the various military stations in that region, and the Secretary of War has therefore, after a private conference with the President, directed the Commissary of Subsistence to purchase five hundred thousand rations of meat, flour, beans and rice, and to carry the law into effect has decided to ask an appropriation of $60,000. The estimate is based on an issue to 20,000 persons for 25 days.

The name of Senator Morrill of Maine, is mentioned by those who profess to know, as not improbably the new Secretary of the Treasury.

THE GENEVA AWARD. The Geneva award bill reported from the Judiciary Committee provides for the Presidential appointment of a Court of five commissioners to adjudicate all claims which, according to the provisions of the bill, may be presented to them. These claims are restricted to such as directly resulted from damage caused by the Alabama and Florida and their tenders, and by the Shenandoah after her departure from Melbourne, and allowance are to be made only for the excess of the loss over any amount received as insurance. No allowance shall be made for assumed profits, prospective profits, or seamen's and officers' wages for a longer time than one year after the breaking up of the voyage, and no allowance shall be made to any insurance company except for the actual loss over the gain from war premiums. If the fund holds out interest may be paid on the amounts awarded at the rate of four per cent. per annum, and five per cent. is to be deducted from each award for expenses of the United States.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Gen. Sickles will return to the United States in two months.

Sir Garnet Wolseley has stepped over the heads of 105 seniors to the rank of Major General.

There will be no split in the Republican party in consequence of this veto.—N. Y. Tribune.

Senor Castellar has written a letter in which he declares himself in favor of the Federal Republic.

Rev. John M. McLeod, for 40 years past a Presbyterian minister in New Yorkshire, died on Monday aged 80 years.

The Emperor William in person closed the session of the Reichstag Friday, with a formal speech of no general importance.

The Grand Duke Alexis is the only member of the Imperial family who will accompany the Czar on his visit to England.

Rev O A Eastman, Honorary Secretary of the American Tract Society, died on Friday. He was born in Amherst, Mass, in 1795.

It is estimated that there are at least one hundred prominent anti-monopolist candidates already in the field for Congress in Iowa.

The Committee of Park street church, Boston, has agreed to report to the church and society in favor of a colleague for Rev Mr Murray.

The Sun's Washington despatch says that arrangements are completed there for establishing a new administration morning daily in New York.

Dean Stanley's text when he preached to the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh, was "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Wm. Hunter, Second Assistant Secretary of State, has gone to Europe on official business of a somewhat general character affecting the various Legations.

Orange Judd, editor of the American Agricultural and Hearth and Home, who was reported dying in Italy some time ago, returned to New York by the last steamer, restored to health.

It is reported that Carl Schurz has accepted the editorship of a leading German daily at $10,000 per annum and will remove to New York at the end of his present Senatorial term.

It is thought that the State courts of Arkansas will not be able to settle the Governorship difficulty, and that finally either the President or Congress will be called on to recognize either Brooks or Baxter as the legal Government.

Almost every new election to fill a vacancy in the French Assembly, conveys a tangible grief to the Monarchists in that body, that if they wish to maintain their power, they must restrict the right of suffrage among their constituents.

Rev. W. T. Sabine, Rector of the Church of Atonement in Madison Avenue, New York, announced to his congregation, Sunday, that he was going to resign from the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church. It is stated that he proposes to join the Cummins movement.

Speaking of the coming debate on the currency question, Senator Morton is quoted as saying that the impression that the debate will be acrimonious and severe upon the President is incorrect. He has heard of no Republican Senator who does not ascribe to the President patriotic motives.

The N. Y. Sun says that Gen James B Craig, Sidney Webster's law partner, pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $50, Saturday, for an assault on William J. Parks, a wealthy broker. The latter has begun a civil suit against Craig for $10,000 damages. The trouble is reported to have grown out of intimate attentions upon an unfounded domestic rumor.

The Woman's Journal claims Mr. Talbot as a woman suffrage Governor. He has, it says "twice presided over suffrage meetings in his own town of Indiana, and has contributed both money and influence to the cause of equal rights, for which incidental gain," it adds, "let us rejoice and be thankful."

A correspondent of the Boston Globe, who has been visiting the kindergarten in that city, thus sums up the results of the system:

Children come out of the kindergarten, if it is conducted by those who understand the science, with a good knowledge of the relations and properties of small numbers, gained by continual counting of lines and squares and sticks, with an understanding of the geometrical forms—squares, oblongs, cubes, and triangles of all sorts; sticks and slat layings, the tasting of transparent forms with pens and pointed sticks with knowledge of drawing sufficient to enable them to invent symmetrical patterns on the squared slates or paper, with much facility in little arts of manipulation that make the little fingers dextrous, with a great many pretty songs, both devotional and picturesque, with symbolical plays taught musically, with simple, easy gymnastic exercises, and, above all, with the power and habit of expressing themselves clearly and correctly. Can all this be said of the first two years, or even of the third, of primary instruction? Yet it is all accomplished without books, or any knowledge of reading, but simply by doing.

"Hope springs eternal" in the breast of Judge Kelley of Pennsylvania. That enthusiastic statesman is now confident that his scheme for a patent elastic interconvertible bond and greenback currency is just the measure on which all can unite in the present emergency. We warn Judge Kelley, however, in the kindest spirit, that this scheme is likely to be wrecked by the latest habit the President has of sticking to his convictions. It is only in December last that the President said of such contrivances: "They look to me like compelling the Government to pay interest without corresponding value to the public upon the surplus funds of the country during the seasons when they are otherwise unemployed."—N. Y. Times.

INDIANS WITH THE FRANCHISE. Mr. Buckingham's bill to enable the Indians to become citizens of the United States provides that any Indian shall be declared a citizen of the United States who shall make application to the judge of a court of record, and make the same proof and take the same oath of allegiance as are provided by law for the naturalization of aliens, and shall also make proof to the satisfaction of the court that he has sufficient intelligence and prudence to control his affairs and interests, and that he has adopted the habits of civilized life, and has been for one year previously and is able to support himself and family. It is, however, provided that becoming a citizen shall not prevent any Indian from continuing to receive any annuity or money payment of any kind to which he may be entitled as a member of any tribe or band of Indians.

Steamer Rhode Island of the Stonington line lost a portion of one wheel house in the gale Saturday night and the saloon room, near the wheel house, was smashed in by a heavy wave. The passengers had fortunately moved from the room previously. The steamer reached Stonington at 8 A. M Sunday.

Henry B. Emery, 26 years old, son of C. J. Emery, Paymaster at the Charleston Navy Yard, attempted to pass forged paper at the Revere House in Boston, Sunday, representing himself as Col. Fred. Grant, son of the President. He was arrested.

St. John's Guild, of New York, despite the statements of Rev. Dr. Dix that in such an event it would cease to be a parish of Trinity church, has re-elected Rev. Alvin Hackley master and rules his reinstatement as rector of St. John's chapel.

The resolution was adopted and Mr E R Hoar addressed the House in eulogy of Senator Sumner

Mr Hoar gave a brief history of Sumner's career to the hour of his death, which he attributed to the assault of Preston Brooks When Mr Sumner entered the Senate there were but two others there of the party to which he belonged, and before his death he was the leader of more than two-thirds of his party He came to the Senate as the champion of Liberty, was called a fanatic and was not given even a place on the committees, before his death he saw a member of the persecuted race on the floor of the Senate. Mr. Sumner was thoroughly and truly an American, he believed in his country, her interests, her grandeur and her destiny.

Mr Dawes said no man can justly estimate that great public career which has so suddenly and sadly closed. Mr. Sumner reared his own monument and has left it complete; it will stand peerless through all the ages that free government and human equality shall exist on the earth, an enslaved race lifted to freedom, to citizenship and to equal rights will crown it with the garlands of fresh effort and victorious struggles toward a complete manhood.

Speeches were also made by Messrs. Lamar of Mississippi, Orth of Indiana, Rainey of South Carolina, Potter of New York, Kelley of Pennsylvania, Nesmith of Oregon, G. F. Hoar of Massachusetts, Conger of Michigan and Phillips of Kansas, and the House adjourned.

THE LOUISIANA FLOOD.

EXTENT OF THE DISASTER

NEW YORK, April 27 A Washington despatch says that the prominent citizens of the Southwest now in Washington represent the suffering incident to the flood in the Mississippi Valley much greater even than it has been represented by despatches from New Orleans and other points Of 32,000,000 acres of alluvial lands capable of being planted to cotton and sugar, only about 150,000 acres are now above water Of this area 100,000 acres are cotton lands, but only about 80,000 acres would have been planted From this an average yield would have been 800,000 bales Should the flood subside by the first of May, half the crop might be raised on part of the land Should the water remain until the first of June, no crop at all could be produced The probabilities are that, in any contingency, not more than 300,000 can be produced this year on these lands careful estimates fix the amount of sugar crop now destroyed at 40,000 acres, and this will be a total loss, the flood having destroyed last year's sprouts as well as the new cane. The suffering of the people will not end when the water subsides, for many planters will be in no pecuniary condition to go on with their work.

THE WAYS AND MEANS INVESTIGATION

A. G. Fay was examined by the Ways and Means Committee to-day, and testified to business in connection with Sanborn since 1868. His business at first was relating to the stock of Eastern Railroads and the Adams Express Company. His going to Europe was on account of his children and when he was about going Sanborn promised him a commission from the Secretary of the Treasury as special agent. He examined the records of the Consulates mainly in relation to the undervaluation of gloves, the cases he examined being those filed by Sanborn and mostly relating to importers in New York. Fay says he made nothing by the trip. Sanborn was furnished with the list of cases. Mr. Fay said the Government paid him $5 per day and his expenses, and he lived well as the Committee could see. Fay also testified that he received $2,000 from Hermann, for having his case dismissed from a New York Court; also, that the $1,000 paid by Hermann to Judge Davis, was paid in to the Treasury and that DeKay was instructed to enter a nolle prosequi. Never told Hermann that he (Fay) was to give part of his money to Sanborn

"Mr. Beck—"But Hermann swore that you divided the money with Sanborn."

Mr. Fay—"I swear I never said a word to Sanborn about the case."

On cross examination Fay said that he had made money in stocks on information from Sanborn

ODD FELLOWS' ANNIVERSARY. The Odd Fellows of Bangor assembled last evening at Odd Fellows' Hall to celebrate the fifty-fifth anniversary of the introduction of the order into this country, and a more enjoyable affair it has never been our pleasure to chronicle. On account of the state of the roads the assemblage was not so large as it would otherwise have been, but there was just enough to make it more than pleasant. At half-past 8 o'clock Past Grand Master N. H. Colton, called the meeting to order and after stating the object of the gathering and offering a few appropriate and very interesting remarks called upon His Honor Mayor Blake, who interested the meeting with some remarks relating to his connection with the order, which ranges over a period of thirty years. Remarks were also made by P. D. G. M. E H. Fogg; P. G Goward of Washington Lodge, Dorchester, Mass.; P. G. Aaron Rowell, of Penobscot Lodge; P. G. E. A. Buck; P. G. Henry Boardman and others, when the party were invited to the banquet hall, where Fraser had spread his dainties so temptingly that it appealed to them in such a manner as to be irresistible, and his entertainment, was discussed very satisfactorily. After enjoying to their all Fraser's entertainment the party adjourned to the rooms below and passed the remainder of the time in dancing, games, social conversation, etc., all a late hour, all agreeing that it was the most pleasant and admirably conducted anniversary celebration which the Odd Fellows have ever enjoyed. The enjoyment of the occasion was heightened by music from Andrews' orchestra, which needs no be named.

CLOSING REHEARSAL OF THE HANDEL ASSOCIATION. The last rehearsal of the Handel Association for the season was held at the City Hall last evening, and was an occasion of much interest to the members, and was largely attended. The choruses to be performed at the concert this evening were rehearsed and were performed in a manner that gave evidence of thorough study and discipline, as well as of a love of the work by the members of the Class, and giving promise of a performance to-night not exceeded by anything heretofore presented in this city.

At the close of the rehearsal, J Swett Rowe, Esq, stepped forward, and in a few happy remarks presented in behalf of the Association to Mr. Fred S. Davenport, an elegant conductor's baton, as a slight token of their appreciation of the able manner in which he has conducted their rehearsals during the past winter. Mr. Davenport was entirely taken by surprise at this unexpected mark of their esteem, but, as usual, was equal to the occasion, and accepted the gift in a felicitous speech, which was received with the heartiest applause.

The baton is of ebony, silver mounted and bears the inscription:—

TO FRED S DAVENPORT,
from the
HANDEL ASSOCIATION, OF BANGOR,

A half hour was spent in listening to songs, duetts, trios and quartettes by members of the Class, after which the President of the Association, Hon. John E. Godfrey, referred to the great progress which the Association had made in its first season, and paying a well merited tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Davenport for the manner in which they have presided over the baton and piano during the season. Judge Godfrey alluded to the progress which has been made in the art of music in this city since the organization of the first musical society here fifty years ago, and read the programme of the concert given by them at that time, which was received with much merriment. It would hardly come up to the requirements of a Bangor audience of to-day. It was voted to have a social reunion two weeks from to-night, and to make an excursion during the coming Summer.

Dea E F Duren referred feelingly to the death during the winter of Mr. Ralph C Brown, a member of the Class, and presented appropriate resolutions, which were adopted by a rising vote. He also referred to the death of Mr. Solon Wilder, a man endeared to the musical portion of the community for his high moral character, his genial social qualities, and his love for his chosen art, which he displayed during his residence among us by giving a new impetus to the then flagging condition of music, and in bringing out the youthful vocalists among us who have since grown up to be our leading singers. He concluded by presenting a series of resolutions, which were ordered to be placed on the minutes and a copy sent to the family of the deceased, but the publication of which, as well as of the preceding resolutions we are obliged to defer this morning

It was then voted that the Association adjourn subject to the call of the Board of Management.

The concert this evening will be a fine one, and as the capacity of the City Hall is limited, those wishing to procure tickets should secure them early. Following is the

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

WOMAN, LOVE AND MARRIAGE We have received from the publishers, Messrs G W. Carleton & Co, N. Y. city, a volume with the above title by Frederick Saunders, who is well known as a graceful and accomplished writer In this work his original and finished style adds to its merits. Though the subject of love and marriage is a frequent theme of discussion and conversation, there is in the work no threadbare ideas, and to many readers it will be of interest

POEMS OF TWENTY YEARS is the title of a little volume of poems by Laura Winthrop Johnson, which are full of tender pathos and melody. The lovers of poetry will find much in the volume to admire, especially on reading it for a second and third time. De Witt C. Lent, Publisher, 451 Broome street, New York. For sale by Messrs. D. Bugbee & Co

FATHERED FOR LIFE, or Lord and Master, a novel by Lillie Devereux Blake. This story will with many readers receive a careful reading and prove very entertaining, yet in some respects it is lacking. The pictures of life as presented in its pages are in some particulars overdrawn, which causes the reader to pass by merits that it has and regard the whole as too highly colored. There are many stories, however, that receive the praise of readers, when they are not really as deserving as is this one. Sheldon & Co, Publishers For sale by Messrs. D. Bugbee & Co.

NEW MAGAZINES.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for May is a most excellent number and contains besides its well selected reading matter, a fine engraving and the usual monthly fashion plate, finely colored. The magazine fully deserves the high place it holds in the esteem of the ladies. L. A. Godey, Publisher, Philadelphia.

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH for May is an excellent number. Among the subjects treated are those of Tobacco, as a cause of disease, Human Physiology, with illustrations; Disease and its Treatment by Hygienic agencies; also, showing the modus operandi of Poisons; Care of Babies; Proverbs Regarding Drunkenness; How often shall we Eat? Delicately Nourished; Spring Maladies; Openings for Hygeian Homes; Lectures to Ladies; Useful Recipes, Household Hints, and Replies to Correspondents on a variety of subjects. This magazine is published at $2.00 a year. On trial, three months, 25 cents. S. R. Wells, Publisher, 389 Broadway, New York.

The May number of OLD AND NEW contains a good selection of things entertaining and profitable. The most important paper is the completion of Rev. James Martineau's discussion of the four assumed "notes" or marks which, as the Roman Catholic Church asserts, prove its claims to divine authority. Mr. Hale's Introduction regrets the delay in paying over the Alabama Claim Money; and there are other editorials, one on the question of industrial co-operation, and one on the choice of books to read. Besides the two serial novels, there is the first half of a striking story by Turgenieff, and another story by Moritz Jokai, the famous Hungarian writer. Of the poems in the number, the longest is a jocular narrative of the cruel treatment of certain cows belonging to a certain Miss Green; a story which smacks very strongly of what somebody called "the abbysmithsonian question." Roberts Brothers, Publishers, 143 Washington street, Boston.

The May number of AMERICAN HOMES contains a good instalment of excellent poetry, short stories, sketches of travel, etc. The magazine has on its list of contributors some of the best writers of the day, and its readers always find it interesting and profitable. Henry L. Shepard & Co, Publishers, Boston

The May ALDINE is as fresh and beautiful as the month it represents, filled to the brim with choice flowers of art and literature. The illustrations are, as usual, not mere woodcuts to fill its pages, but engravings that possess real merit. The opening one, the Dying Hound, by John S. Davis, is a touching picture evidently from life. There are three large and spiritedly-drawn pictures of scenes in Florida and several others that make up the usual number. The reading matter includes a greater variety and excellence than usual. Annie Herbert opens the number with a long and musical poem called My Round Tower in the West; Kate Putnam Osgood tells the story of A Little Fool; Henry Morford has a touching poem, The Sightless Eyes; Jacob L. Mayer gives a very interesting account of A Visit to Erckmann-Chatrian; A. H. Cady tells in a new form The Old, Old Story; Mrs. L. M. Blinn sings of The Beautiful By and By. These are by no means all the articles that are worthy of note, but space will not admit of a complete reference to the contents. James Sutton & Co, Publishers, 58 Maiden Lane, New York city.

TUBERCULAR CONSUMPTION.—My health had been declining since 1865; during the whole time I was unable to attend to any work. In February, 1869, I was taken with a dreadful cough, the amount I raised in twenty-four hours was incredible to tell, the doctors only gave temporary relief. I was advised to use Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. I commenced using it freely, and I can say, with a clear conscience, it has effected wonders. I am now able to work, which for eleven years I was incapable of.

"Fellows' Hypophosphites" must not be confounded with other preparations of Hypophosphites, it differs from all others.

WILBOR'S COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.—Persons who have been taking Cod Liver Oil will be pleased to learn that Dr. Wilbor has succeeded, from directions of several professional gentlemen, in combining the pure oil and lime in such a manner that it is pleasant to the taste, and its effects in lung complaints are truly wonderful. Very many persons whose cases were pronounced hopeless and who had taken the clear oil for a long time without marked effect, have been entirely cured by using this preparation. THE GREAT REPUTATION

Which VEGETINE has attained in all parts of the country as a

Great and Good Medicine,

And the large number of testimonials which are constantly being received from persons who have been cured by its use, is conclusive proof of its great value. It is recommended by physicians and apothecaries. As a Blood Purifier and Health Restorer it has no equal.

VEGETINE is not prepared for a fancy drink made from poor liquors, which debilitates the system and tends to destroy health instead of restoring.

Are not the many testimonials given for the different complaints satisfactory to any reasonable person suffering from disease that they can be cured? Read the different testimonials given, and no one can doubt. In many of the cases the persons say that their pain and suffering cannot be expressed, as in cases of Scrofula, where, apparently, the whole body was one mass of corruption. If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood in the circulating fluid. It can be truly called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease originates in the blood, and no medicine that does not act directly upon it to purify and renovate has any just claim upon public attention. When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the VEGETINE will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body. The conviction is, in the public mind as well as in the medical profession, that the remedies supplied by the Vegetable Kingdom are more safe, more successful in the cure of disease than mineral medicines. VEGETINE is composed of roots, barks and herbs. It is pleasant to take, and is perfectly safe to give an infant. Do you need it? Do not hesitate to try it. You will never regret it.

CANNOT BE EXCELLED,

CHARLESTOWN MARCH, 19th

H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have used your "Blood Preparation" in my family for several years, and think that for Scrofula or Cankerous Humors, or Rheumatic Affections, it cannot be excelled, and as a blood purifier and spring medicine, it is the best thing I have ever used. and I have used almost everything. I can cheerfully recommend it to any one in need of such a medicine.

Yours respectfully,

HENRY R. STEVENS, Esq:

Dear Sir—About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefitted by its use. I procured the article and after using several bottles, was restored to health and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health

Respectfully yours,

[illegible]

GIVES HEALTH STRENGTH AND APPETITE.

My daughter has received great benefit from the use of the VEGETINE. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the VEGETINE restored her health, strength and appetite.

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.

Dear Sir—I have had Dyspepsia in its worst form for the last ten years, and have taken hundreds of dollars' worth of medicines without obtaining any relief. In September last, I commenced taking the VEGETINE, since which time my health has steadily improved. My food digests well, and I have gained fifteen pounds of flesh. There are several others in this place taking VEGETINE, and all have obtained relief.

MY HOME

BY MARY ANN KIDDER

We have no title in a rich vale, far from the world's rude din,
A home of peace and plenty where contentment reigns within
We call the light, bright earth, there's no spot to me so fair,
For we have to loving hearts and loving hearts around us

Joyous only the years glide on so happy s my home
The Queen's title in the land, my heart doth envy none
Nor wealth nor vain fame is mine but oh! far more
For I know
Those glittering baubles, I'd prize the home I love so well

As I sit around our fire, there is many a vacant chair
Nor smile who made our hearth s so bright, are sleeping fast from care
The quiet, peaceful slumber, oh how waking dreams bring
Of those beneath the table's turf, we take them for granted

There, under the shade of the orchard trees, and community where we feel
A little white house for the sweet one of the
